Ike's New Air Safety Plan Has Quick Backing

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's new air safety proposals got quick backing today from an investigating senator and an airline safety director.

Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Mont.), presiding at an inquiry into recent military-civilian collisions that took 61 lives, applauded the five-point presidential moves.

"We need round the clock performance to get them into gear and eliminate dangers in the air ways that exist today," he said.

Carl Christenson, speaking for United Airlines, also supported the White House efforts to avoid crashes between civilian and military air traffic.

"There is no single solution to this problem," Christenson, a veteran commercial pilot, said. He noted that the airways modernization board has a broad program for improving air safety as high speed jet planes increase in number.

Present air space congestion, he said, results from "many more airplanes than we expected and by 1965 there will be twice as many as today."

Although the industry and officials talk about air traffic control, he said, "it's not there."

Guards Have Full Control in Panama

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK

PANAMA (AP) — A general strike spread in Panama today but the National Guard held an iron rein in streets that had become quiet after rioting Thursday. The strike closed stores, bakeries, newspapers, bars and restaurants.

Students, who began demonstrations to enforce demands for better school conditions, stayed inside the National University. Troops had cleared the streets of hoodlums who joined the student protest Thursday.

Eight persons were killed and 61 others, wounded in rioting. A government spokesman said political agitators, including Communists, infiltrated student ranks and caused the violence. The spokesman said snipers were responsible for the fatal shootings.

The three National Guard chiefs the students went kicked out ran the country under a state of siege — modified martial law.

But this did not prevent the strike from starting. The first to walk out at midnight were printers at three morning newspapers. The riots grew out of student complaints over school conditions and resentment over the killing of a student in an earlier demonstration.

Student bands armed with iron clubs, sticks and rocks roamed the city Thursday and the Guardsmen went into action with tear gas. It soon appeared the students had lost control to hoodlums whose political alignment, if any, was not clear.

Traffic in Panama City was tied up by a bus strike. The rioters barricaded downtown streets with garbage cans at every corner. Many stores closed during the fighting as windows were shattered, cars overturned and truffle lights smashed. Airport authorities spirited arriving passengers to their hotels by special station wagons.

The 10-mile-wide Panama Canal zone splits Panama geographically, but a strong cordon of Canal Zone police along the boundary kept the trouble from spilling over into the U.S.-controlled area where most North Americans live.

Except for some disturbance in Colon, the port on the Caribbean side, the rest of this Central American country also was reported quiet.

The fatalities all occurred in Panama City.

Sharp Cutback on Car Production

DETROIT (AP) — Passenger car output in U. S. factories this week should total 86,032 units, Ward's Automotive Reports said today. Last week 87,407 cars were built. In the same 1957 week 127,428 were produced.

Ward's puts production so far this year at 1,837,681 cars and 392,026 trucks. At this point last year output totaled 2,789,562 cars and 488,495 trucks.

12 Perish in Fire in British Columbia

WILLIAMS LAKE, B. C. (AP) — Twelve children perished and a number of persons were injured Thursday night when flames leveled an Indian reservation hospital.

The fire was touched off by two unexplained explosions. Rescuers were virtually helpless from lack of firefighting equipment in the vicinity.

The hospital was located on the Assinippi Indian reserve in British Columbia's wild Cariboo country.

Man Dies Here Enroute to Kentucky

MILLARD Samuel Lee, aged 58, a resident of Paducah, Ky. died here last night while enroute to his home from Pasadena, Texas. Mr. Lee had been ill some time and his family was taking him home.

When they stopped in a local service station it was discovered he was dead. Coroner R. V. Herndon Jr. said.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Louise Lee, two daughters, Mrs. Peggy Brake of Pasadena, Texas and Mrs. Betty McGreggor of Paducah and a son, Pat Lee of Paducah.

The body was taken overland by a Herndon-Cornelius ambulance to Kentucky for burial.

Final Rites Today for Bracy Smith

SAMUEL Bracy Smith, aged 71, a resident of Spring Hill area, died Wednesday at the home of a son in Dallas.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Mamie Smith, and the son, W. B. Smith, Dallas.

Funeral services were held at 2 p. m. Friday at Spring Hill Methodist Church by the Rev. Shadock. Burial by Herndon-Cornelius was in Porter Cemetery.

Bentonville Group May Buy Hotel

BENTONVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Civic leaders and residents of this north-west Arkansas resort city have launched a drive to raise money to keep the Massey Hotel from being sold to outsiders.

At a public meeting yesterday more than half of the necessary funds was subscribed. The City of Bentonville, through its council, pledged $5,000 toward the purchase of the commercial hotel.

The Massey is a business district hotel owned by Bob Walton of Noel, Mo. A group headed by Negro Atty. Amos Hall of Tulsa recently made Walton an offer for the hotel for clients. The reported offer, which Hall refused to confirm, was $50,000.

Hall, contacted in Tulsa, said he was eating for clients and in no position to talk about the proposed purchase at this time.

At the mass meeting yesterday, civic leaders said they felt it would be injurious to the city to lose its commercial hotel — there are resort accommodations in the area — where traveling men stay and local civic clubs meet.

Local residents hope to have raised money to assure its purchase locally by the end of the week.

An unconfirmed report said Walton had offered to sell it to local citizens below the offer from the Tulsa group.

Shotgun Shell Plant Goes Up in Smoke

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — A small, suburban plant manufacturing shotgun shells caught fire and exploded before dawn today. Two blasts shook a wide area, hurled a sheriff's deputy 40 feet and shattered windows of surrounding buildings.

The deputy, LeRoy Willis, was bruised and shaken up. Fire officials estimated damage to the Carlsbad Ammunition Co. at between $20,000 and $40,000.

Ouachita Near 51-Foot Crest in Louisiana

MONROE, La. (AP) — The Ouachita River soared its predicted 51-foot crest today as the murky waters spread over highways in the northeast section of the state and evacuation camps went up throughout the area.

Evacuations continued in Calhoun, Catahoula and Morehouse parishes with the Ouachita creeping to an official reading of 50.42 feet on a 100-foot high here. U. S. Engineers here said the 51-foot crest probably will be reached over the weekend.

The Enterprise community, located in Catahoula Parish, southwest of here, was cut off today when the highway to Harrisonburg was closed. Officials said six inches of water lay over the road and the water was still rising.

Catahoula Parish officials said about 50 more families moved out of the Larle community near Jonesville, leaving the town virtually deserted.

The Caldwell Parish sheriff's office said water was still rising and "several more families" had moved out.

Army set up evacuation and relief centers. The Red Cross established disaster headquarters near Jonesville and began taking applications from flood-stricken residents who need assistance.

Mrs. Verdis Dowdy, executive secretary of the Red Cross, said about 40 tents had been issued for the homeless. "Camp Folk," originally issued 100 tents but Mrs. Dowdy said it may be necessary to make another appeal.

Monroe Mayor W. L. Howard's call for National Guard aid was answered by 131 troops who helped patrol the strained levees. Howard said the guardsmen would remain on duty for a few days after the crest has passed.

Bayou Bartholomew was again the trouble spot in Morehouse Parish with more families and livestock evacuated.

Howard said that unless a lot more rain falls, the Monroe situation appears to be under control. Flood experts said that once the river starts falling, it would take about three weeks to return to its reasonably normal stage.

UN Ponders Charge of United Arabs

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Lebanon's consulted Western U. N. diplomats urgently today on strategy for the Security Council debate on Lebanese charges against the United Arab Republic. The 11-nation group is expected to meet early next week.

Quick U. N. action was requested shortly before midnight Thursday by Lebanon's delegate, Karim Azkoul, who accused President Nasser's government of threatening peace by intervening in Lebanese internal affairs.

U. A. R. spokesman Abdul Mayfoud Hassan declared Lebanon would never have brought the complaint to the U. N. without the encouragement of the United States and Britain.

Azkoul set up private meetings with each delegation in an effort to see how much support he could expect and what sort of resolution might have a chance of approval.

It appeared certain any resolution condemning or censuring the U. A. R. would be killed by a Soviet veto.

The Western delegates indicated they would throw their full support behind Lebanon, but they have been silent as to what sort of action they think best.

Official call for the Council meeting was expected after this month's president, Charles S. de Gaulle of Canada, completed consultations with the other 10 members on a date.

Caddies Striking For More Pay

CAYMANAS Country Club acquired a new hazard today. Caddies striking for more pay buried stones at golfers. A watchman was beaten up. The management installed armed guards to keep the caddies away.

Revolutionary Government Set Up in Algeria

By DAVID MASON

ALGERS (AP) — What amounts to a revolutionary government for Algeria was set up today in defiance of Paris. It was established by a civilian-military junta set up here last week.

The new group demanded return of Gen. Charles de Gaulle to the helm of the French government.

A communique addressed to Frenchmen of the world said their countrymen in Algeria are firmly resolved to install a French government of public safety presided over by Gen. de Gaulle.

The committee resolved to stay in office until de Gaulle takes command in Paris. De Gaulle has said twice in the last few days that he is ready to do so, but has not been summoned.

The communique expressed determination to keep this North African territory tied to the motherland.

The committee named two co-chairmen — painter Roger Ben, Jacques Massu, who took control in Algiers after the first riots against Pillmin May 13, and Cherif Sidani, a Muslim who held a high position in the government of Premier Felix Gualard.

Massu's leading role on the committee was a sign that Gen. Raoul Salan, the French commander in chief in Algeria, would continue to be the supreme authority, at least in name. Pillmin ordered Salan to exercise the French government's authority in Algeria, but it has never become clear whether he is defying the insurgent French officers and settlers or they are telling him.

The new "Committee of Public Safety for Algeria and the Sahara" is composed of about 40 members. A number of subcommittees correspond to government ministries.

The committee held an informal session with Salan. At Salan's right was Jacques Soustelle, Gaullist leader in the French Parliament who left Paris last week to join the Algerian insurgent movement. Another Salan aide, Soustelle has a formal position on the new committee.

There seems little doubt that a full-scale government is blossoming here. Officials proclaim they intend to run their own show despite any attempted interference "from those idiots in Paris."

There was no news here of the arrival of Gen. Henri Lorillot as a special envoy from Premier Pierre Pillmin. There were reports that Lorillot, new chief of the combined French military forces, might not be received. In Paris, a reliable source said that Lorillot had not left.

Probers Seek Cause of Nike Base Blast

By VINCENT O'MAHONEY

MIDDLETOWN, N. J. (AP) — Investigators searched a Nike base near here today to learn what caused eight fully armed missiles to blow up in a furious mushroom of fire and death.

The explosion Thursday killed 10 persons and scattered explosive warheads across a wide area of the countryside.

The disaster, described by a general as an accident that could not happen but did, was set off by a single missile that exploded.

A split-second chain reaction turned the entire area into a flaming pit of destruction that one eyewitness called horrible beyond belief.

Mangled bodies and fragments lay strewn about where a moment before men had stood. The disintegration of the victims made it difficult to establish identities of all.

The dead included six soldiers and four civilians.

Three others were injured, one seriously.

Fighters Try to Keep Blaze From Gas Tank

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Firemen battled today to prevent a devastating oil refinery blaze from setting off an 800,000-gallon tank of poisonous tetraethyl lead.

Flames shot high over oil-rain Signal Hill all night, raging through the 25-million-dollar Hancock Oil Co. refinery.

Two workers were killed, trapped in rivers of burning oil and gasoline.

Firemen contained the flames within the refinery grounds during the night.

The main remaining peril was the tetraethyl lead tank.

Firemen said if that tank bursts the entire area would have to be cleared of people.

New trouble beset the firemen today when water pressure failed. Signal Hill wells from which they had been getting water for their hoses apparently were exhausted.

An effort was made to try to hook into Long Beach City lines but this posed a serious problem because of the distance.

Torrents of blazing oil from a ruptured tank set off a series of earth-shaking explosions Thursday afternoon.

The hundreds of firefighters were hampered by a critical shortage of water. First a pump broke down and pressure dropped hours later the tanks on top of Signal Hill were dry.

The fire department began pumping direct from a reservoir. Police urged other refineries in the area to shut down to conserve water. A sound truck drove through the streets ordering residents to use no more water than necessary.

Reuther Flatly Refuses 2-Year Contract Pact

DETROIT, Mich. (AP) — The top councils of the United Auto Workers Union met in an unprecedented joint session today to make plans for a final showdown on auto industry contract talks.

Reports circulated that President Walter Reuther and his 25-man executive board, which met Thursday, had made considerable revisions in the union demands, and also that no major revisions had been made.

Weapons Sent Overseas Total $1 Billion

By JOHN SCALI

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower reported today that nearly a billion dollars in weapons and military equipment were shipped to overseas allies during the last six months of 1957.

Reporting to Congress on the government's foreign aid program, he said that the new deliveries boosted to 17 billion the amount of military aid given friendly countries since 1950.

About 45 per cent of the latest shipments went to the Far East. European countries got 30 per cent and other areas the remainder.

Weapons included tanks, artillery, armored vehicles, ammunition, communications equipment, ships and jet aircraft. But Eisenhower said weapons alone will not provide adequate security for free nations.

"It is not enough," he said, "for the nations of the free world to be strong in their defenses. Strength, security and justice are needed on other areas: in business and economic affairs, in political and social institutions, in opportunities for education and in the growth of individuals in mind and spirit."

Eisenhower submitted a 32-page report, along with a covering letter, that stressed the economic development programs the United States was sponsoring to help build a solid financial footing for Allied countries.

Among the economic aid projects he cited were power dams in South Korea, Formosa and Turkey, highway development in Vietnam, and a railroad improvement plan in India.

New projects undertaken, he reported, were surveys of the Blue Nile River basin in Ethiopia, the start of an international airport in Afghanistan, technical surveys of development plans in the Sudan and an engineering study of a radio-telephone system in Nepal.

Department Store Sales Dip Slightly

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Department store sales in the 8th Federal Reserve District last week were two per cent lower than the same week last year.

The Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis reported today that only St. Louis reported a drop in sales. The Louisville area registered a sales gain of 11 per cent.

Memphis sales tumbled 11 per cent while losses of 3 per cent were reported at St. Louis, Little Rock and seven smaller district cities.

The increase in Louisville was attributed to a citywide sales promotion effort by retailers.

For the year to date, the Federal Reserve Bank said, sales were 3 per cent lower than last year.

Okay Postmistress Is Confirmed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate confirmation of the nominations of six Arkansas postmasters was announced today.

President Eisenhower submitted the nominations, which include Donald H. Travis, Judson James R. McClure, Nashville; Gertrude A. Hargis, Okay; James H. Creed, Rison; Chester A. Garrett, State Hospital, at Little Rock; and Norman L. Wilson, Stephens.

gestions around New York City, Washington and the East Coast. Christensen said an actual count would show that "Los Angeles probably is the most congested air space we have in the country today."

He proposed that the Civil Aeronautics Administration tighten its regulations to require that all traffic maintain definite separations and altitudes on both visual and instrument flying.

"The young fellow who is flying a high performance jet has his hands full," he said, adding that safety regulations must give him ample space even for slight errors.

Christensen backed a bill offered by Monroney and 32 other senators which would set up a new independent federal aviation agency to control all air traffic. It would replace the CAA which is part of the Commerce Department and lacks control over military flights.

President Eisenhower Thursday ordered a five-point program, pending a long-range air safety plan expected to be ready in about three months. Some emergency rules will become effective within a few days.

Eisenhower's emergency orders were issued after he had conferred with members of a House Appropriations subcommittee. A day earlier that group had demanded such emergency measures but had been turned down by federal aviation officials.

Details of the five-point safety program were announced after the White House meeting by Rep. Prince H. Preston (D-Ga.), chairman of the Appropriations subcommittee. It requires that:

1. Jet trainer planes flown by student pilots on civilian airways must operate under instrument flight rules. Preston said such aircraft now operate under visual flight rules except at night and in bad weather.

2. Military jet trainers must stay off civilian airways when traveling from higher to lower altitudes.

3. Jet planes on cross-country and similar flights must file flight plans with the Civil Aeronautics Administration.

4. Jet trainer pilots must keep away from civilian airways in making proficiency flights.

5. Operational flights must be made on civilian airways under instrument flight rules and CAA control.

Baptist Seek to Promote World Peace

B. GEORGE CORNELL

Associated Press Religion Writer

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Southern Baptists today launched a special religiously-oriented inquiry into how they can promote world peace.

On the final day of their big, week-long convention here, they authorized a nine-man commission to explore "ways and means" of action.

Declaring that fear and tension hovers over the world because of the continuing threat of war, their resolution said:

"Southern Baptists are eager to meet our responsibility to promote peace through Christian love and the application of Christian principles to human affairs."

Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark.), convention president, had urged establishment of the special peace committee as a method by which Christians might make a major contribution to humanity.

The Rev. Dale Cowling, of Little Rock, Ark., brought up the resolution.

The convention picked St. Louis as the meeting place for its 96th convention.

Sites for the 95th convention, in Louisville, Ky., and the 1960 convention in Miami Beach, had been decided previously.

In a morning session, the Rev. Carson Taylor, of Baltimore, made an appeal for an increasing fight against liquor traffic to guard the future of the postwar baby boom.

Who are becoming now of legal age to drink.

The convention yesterday voted changes in bylaws to put a firmer, guiding rein on the vast array of activities of the 8-million-member denomination.

Trucking Permits Granted 5 Firms

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Commerce Commission yesterday granted interstate trucking permits to five firms—two from Arkansas—as a result of hearings held earlier this month.

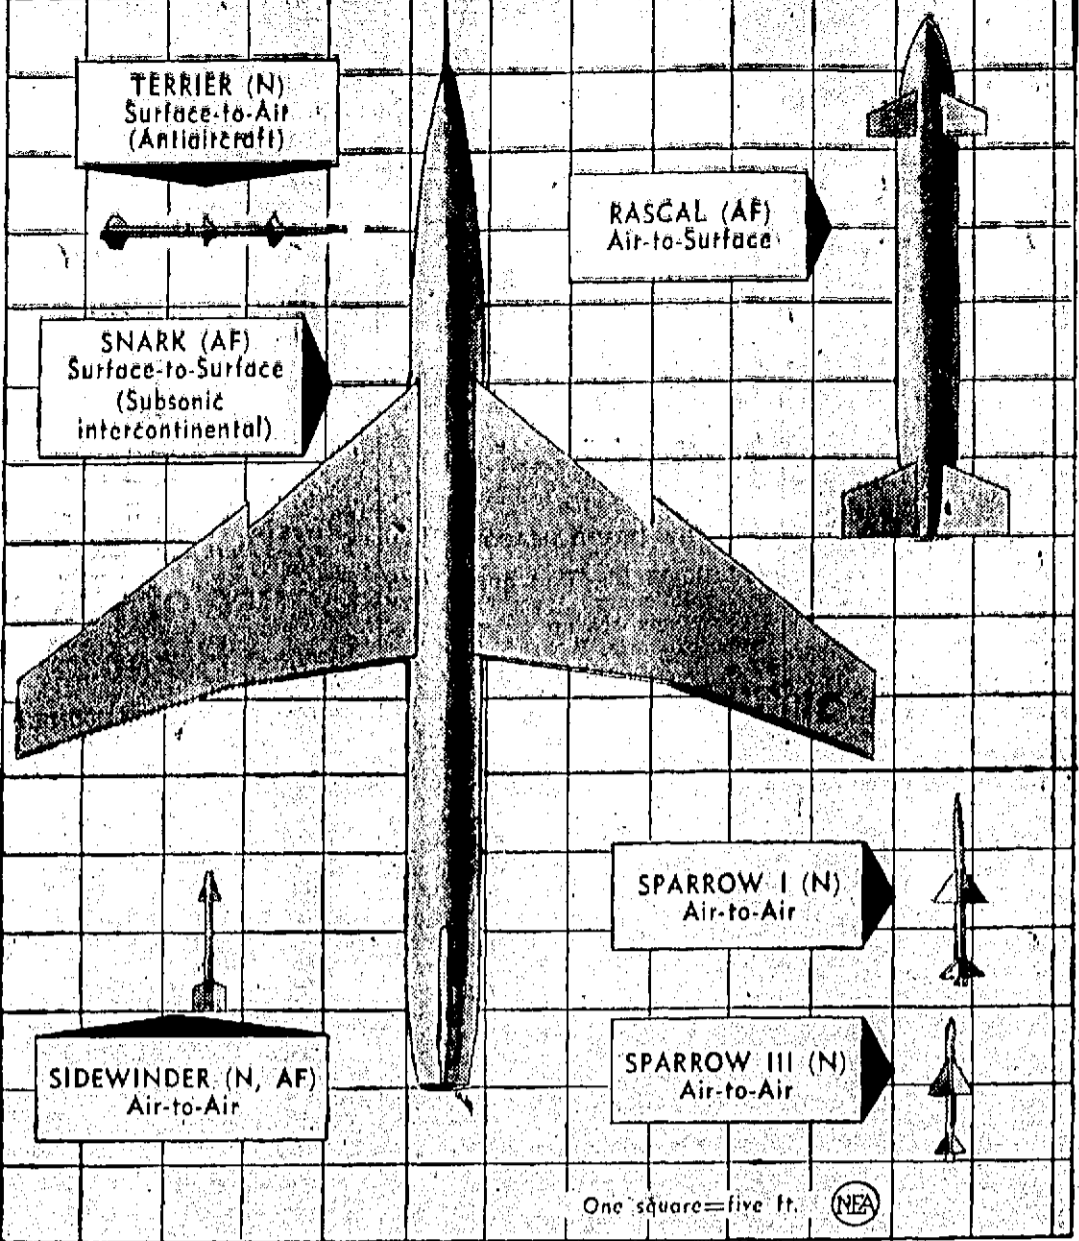

The Arkansas firms getting permits were Howard Trucking Co. of Pine Bluff to haul timber, building materials and agricultural products and Hoskins Truck Service of Malvern to haul aluminum ingots and scrap iron.

Kerosene Causes Death of Child

MEMPHIS (AP)—Linda Sue Roach, 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Roach of near Leavenworth, Ark., died yesterday from a fatal case of kerosene poisoning after drinking kerosene from a home Tuesday night.

Relatives said she drank from a quart jar the family used to store kerosene.

Dramatic-looking jet-powered Snark, above, is America's only operational intercontinental missile (5,000-mile). It is currently being produced at the rate of two a month. One launching site is under construction. An advanced Snark is under development. Terrier is operational; an improved version will arm an aircraft carrier in 1959. Rascal is a radar-guided, air-launched missile (about 100 miles range), operational with B-47s. Sidewinder and Sparrow I are both operational. (Sparrow II is discontinued.) Sparrow III is in production to replace Sparrow I.

The desire of effort put into such tasks as establishment of a permanent inhabited space station, a lunar base and flights to neighboring planets depends on the ability and urgency of the projects. This timetable was organized on the basis of current progress, before the discovery of the wide belt of intensely radioactive matter some 600 miles above the earth. # Attributes Success to Wagon Train

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Robert Horton hopped on a wagon train last year for a successful journey that has taken him far—even as far as Shakespeare.

This week, Horton played a lead in "Much Ado About Nothing" in a two-part Malibu Theater show on NBC. The lead has also shown on Rosemary Clooney's show and played dramatic leads in TV. He attributes all this activity to the success of Wagon Train, the Wednesday night frontier saga.

"No doubt about it," said red-haired, dynamic Bob. "I was in another series—King's Row for Warner Brothers. It did nothing for me; in fact, it died after 13 weeks."

"But Wagon Train is the best thing that has happened to me. Fortunately, I held out against an exclusive contract. I'm able to do outside TV once a month. And I can do different things so I won't be typed as a Western actor."

A help fellow, this Horton, Wagon Train pitted him against a much better known actor, Ward Bond, and Bob feared he would come out second best. So he whipped up a long analysis of the character he plays and presented it to the film makers. This helped add dimension and importance to his role.

It was inevitable that Bond, gruff, veteran top sergeant of the John Ford gang, would be riled by the hustling Horton. There were reports that Bond complained of upstaging, that he wouldn't sign for another season if Horton was aboard.

I asked Horton about their relations.

"He and I agree that our relationship can stand improvement," Bob said gingerly. "and we both are making an effort in that direction. As for upstaging, that's ridiculous. I've never done that. I've never even had it done to me in films, except once by a girl in a TV film."

"As for any threat not to appear with me next season, I don't think there's anything to it. From all I can gather, we're both set to be back next year."

Heart Massage Fails to Keep Boy Alive

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—A seven-year-old boy whose heartbeats were restored by emergency massage during an operation Wednesday, died at a hospital here last night.

He was Lynn Alston Pack, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pipkin A. Pack of Sherrill.

The boy was undergoing a tonsillectomy when his heart stopped beating. His chest incision was made and a physician massaged the heart about 15 times. The heart resumed beating within about three minutes. Physicians said yesterday that outcome of the case would depend on the amount of damage suffered by the brain during the cessation of the heartbeat.

Farmers Redeeming 1957-Crop Cotton

WASHINGTON (AP)—Farmers are beginning to redeem 1957-crop cotton from the government's price support program in an increasing volume.

The Agriculture Department reported that 57,000 bales had been reclaimed through repayment of loans during the week ended May 16. This compared with 18,000 bales the previous week.

The price support rate for cotton will go up nearly three cents a pound for the 1958 crop. This increase will tend to pull up cotton market prices as a whole.

It is becoming possible, officials said, for farmers to pay off loans on some grades, including inland and carrying charges, and sell the cotton for a profit.

This profit margin may increase as time for the 1958 harvest season approaches.

As of May 16, farmers had about $3,000,000 of 1957 cotton stored under price supports. All will be taken over by the department in cancellation of loans.

Coe Ardith Harris, Bride Elect, is Feted

Mrs. V. V. Ashcraft and Mrs. John Harris entertained at the home of the latter on 311 South Pine Tuesday evening, at a miscellaneous shower for Miss Coe Ardith Harris, bride-elect of B. J. Wilson.

The bridal motif was carried out throughout the home, and the focal point was the service board covered with a lace cloth, and the candlelight setting effectively flanked by crystal doves. The centerpiece, gift to the bride, by Mrs. Manuel Hamm was artistically arranged magnolia blossoms in a crystal compote.

Iced punch was poured by Mrs. Robert Cox to approximately 50 guests that called informally during the evening.

Negroes in Central High All Passed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—All eight Negroes attending Central High School here have made passing grades, Principal J. W. Matthews said yesterday.

Matthews said regulations forbidding making the grades public except to the students or parents. Ernest Green is the only one of the Negroes who is a senior. He will be graduated Tuesday night with about 600 white students.

Matthews indicated that one of the Negroes had achieved the honor roll. He repeated in this connection that he was not at liberty to disclose names or grades.

Nine Negro students entered Central High last fall under protection of federal troops.

One of them, Minnie Jean Brown, was suspended for the term and now is attending an integrated private school in New York City, she has said she hopes to return to Central High next term.

If the remaining Negroes are allowed to return in the fall there will be three seniors and four juniors among them.

The Little Rock School Board has petitioned federal court here for a 2 year postponement of integration. U. S. District Judge Harry J. Lemley will hear the case June 3.

Faubus Commutes Five Sentences

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Five convicts are eligible for parole as a result of commutations of sentences Gov. Orval Faubus granted yesterday.

One of the men, Ben Ford, was serving a life term for first degree murder. Ford, a 45-year-old Strong Negro, was convicted in 1955 for shooting John R. Doniam, also a Negro.

Two other residents of Strong, both Negroes, also were granted commutations. They are James Henry, 36, and Marcus Newton, 23, sentenced in 1957 to three years each for robbery.

Other commutations went to Larry Ray Dunbar, 23, of Mountainburg, Bill Wayne McDoner, 24, of near Mountainburg. They were sentenced to one year each last March for stealing a calf.

Touchy Question on Children's Colony

CONWAY, Ark. (AP)—The superintendent of the Arkansas Children's Colony pondered a touchy question today.

What do you do when a highway runs "slap" through the middle of your grounds?

"David Ray Jr. said that is the problem which faces him. He said he found out yesterday the proposed interstate highway through Faulkner County is laid out to put 150 acres of colony grounds on one side of it and 250 acres on the other."

Ray said the state Highway Department had told him earlier that the highway could run by the southwest corner of the colony.

Having the grounds split just won't do, he said, but right now he doesn't know what action he can take.

Mandates Filed in U. S. Dist. Court

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Three mandates connected with Little Rock School integration were filed in U. S. District Court here today.

They were handed down last April by the 8th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals at St. Louis.

The mandates affirmed previous district court orders. They are:—Dismissed to petition of Mrs. Margaret Jackson and other parents to keep federal troops from interfering with the education of their children.

9—Ordered Mrs. Clyde Thomas, not to interfere with the School Board's integration plan.

8—Ordered Gov. Orval Faubus and Arkansas National Guard officials not to interfere with integration.

Designed to pretty up the basic sheath are these summer accessories. Cotton print cocoon jacket (left) is hiplength, has blouse back shaped to skim the waistline. It is done in a variety of prints. The wool-knit chemise jacket (center) is knit on long, slim lines to the hipbone, is neatly banded. It's done in a novelty knit that simulates a cable stitch. The long tie and matching bow clip (right) turn a sheath into a dressy affair for early evening. They are in polka dot, taffeta, come in a wide range of colors. The clip bow is actually a very soft version of the popular headband. All accessories shown here are by Glentex. They are ideal for travel since they fit small space in a suitcase.

DOROTHY DIX

Phone Chattering Teen-Agers Shatter Adults' Nerves

Dear Dorothy Dix: I have a 15-year-old son who is dating a girl. I don't mind having them go out but I think he spends too much time on her. He's at her house every weekend, calls her up every night and talks for what seems like hours. We think he's too young for such serious stuff. Mrs. M. K.

Dear Mrs. M. K.: The practice is fairly common among today's teen-agers but you should call a halt somewhere. Your son should be permitted to date the girl on weekends and perhaps to call her once during the week. Since they see each other at school, this should be enough. The girl's parents should cooperate too. Probably they're as annoyed as you are but haven't the nerve to interfere. Teen-agers sure can intimidate their parents sometimes.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm in love (I think) with one of the most popular boys in town. He's a big kid and is quite proud of the fact that all the girls are crazy about him. If he asks me if I love him, should I admit that I do or just tell him I'm fond of him?

DOUBTFUL: With so many nannies running after him no wonder the boy's head is turned completely around. Why don't you be different? If he asks if you love him (and he doesn't care a bit if you do or don't) say "no." What a commotion you'll create!

Dear Dorothy Dix: My father is a wonderful man, adores his family, but he simply will not let my 16-year-old brother lead a normal teen-age life. The boy is an honor student, active in sports, but he isn't permitted to date, and isn't even to be allowed to attend his junior prom. I think Dad's driving him to something foolish, like joining the service instead of going to college. Is there anything we can do to change his mind?

MRS. B. F.: Your father is unreasonable, of course, but he has problems too. Parents are being so forcibly reminded in newspapers and magazines of the juvenile delinquency problem that they're seeing monsters in every teen-ager. Your brother certainly seems to be one who can be trusted and Dad is just being too scary. A teacher or minister might find the words to reach him. I doubt if anyone in the family can.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Last summer while working in a distant town I met a young man. We dated several times, but since I came home haven't seen or heard from him. Is it a girl's place to let a man know she wants him to write her? Would it be improper for me to write him a nice, friendly letter or would it be too forward?

LEONA: Too much time has elapsed to make it possible for you to write the boy. He's doubtless dating another girl by now. Once the threads of friendship are allowed to become slack it's very difficult to tighten up again.

Take Problem to Man Upstairs

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP)—If sidewalk superintendents have any criticism about the demolition of an old Cheyenne church, they'll have to take it to the Man Upstairs.

The roof of the church already had been removed when this sign was placed on the wall: "Slide-walk engineers with better ideas on how to wreck this building, leave note in suggestion box. Suggestion box on the roof."

KSC Assessment Is Under Study

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Judge J. Mitchell Cockrill yesterday got a brief from the Kansas City Southern Railway Co. explaining why the railroad thought $1,330,000 was too much for its 1957 property tax assessment.

The railroad had appealed the assessment earlier.

Cockrill turned down an appeal of the company's 1955 assessment in Pittsburg, Kan. Court last week. Trial on an appeal of the 1957 assessment is scheduled June 3.

"I leave that up to you," "What is it, you look for?" "I will know it when I see it," "I said, 'and I'm willing to look at all sorts of things.'"

In the meantime we had left the city and were driving along on a brand, sweeping highway on which there was practically no traffic. It was a beautiful road except for one thing: every mile or so there was a police post.

"There is a house on top of the hill," he said. "It is such as you said you wanted. We will see."

Luis was right. There was a house up there. Old and weather-beaten, its Spanish lines beginning to fade before the elements.

"A family named Rivelles lives there," Luis said as he stopped the car in front of the house.

We got out and went up to the house. I introduced myself and went through my little spiel. The people began to bring out whatever belongings they had and I sat and went through the long force of looking at them and shaking my head.

I thanked the family for all their trouble, slipped some coins to two small children and Luis and I went back to the car.

The road wound a little less a rugged and was barely wide enough for the car. On the left side there were sandbanks and sometimes stretches of almost flat grass, on the right side there was an almost straight drop.

I suddenly became aware that we were going pretty fast. I glanced at the speedometer. The needle was already past 50 and still moving.

"Luis," I said, "don't you think you'd better slow up just a little? We're not out to win a cup."

"Luis Argosola, am the best driver in the Moroccan Republic," he answered.

"Then I'm glad I don't have one of the others." I admitted I looked at the speedometer again. Now it was past 80. "Luis," I said firmly, "I hate to disillusion you about the courage of North Americans, but this is too fast."

"Not dangerous," he grunted. "Okay, it's not dangerous, but I don't like it." So do something about it.

Well, if you insist. He straightened in his seat and put his foot on the brake pedal. Nothing happened. We just kept careening down that crazy road picking up speed.

Luis lifted his foot and jabbed again. Still nothing happened. "The brakes are no more," Luis said his voice going higher. "I cannot stop it. Don Luis, there is nothing to do but jump. Open your door and jump." He took one hand from the steering wheel and reached for his door.

U. S. Doesn't Want Algeria Crisis Spread

By John M. Hightower

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States was reported today to be working to prevent the French-Algerian crisis from spreading into Tunisia and Morocco.

Officials said efforts, necessarily very limited, are concentrated on urging restraint on French and North African leaders. Presumably this country is making its views known through the embassy in Paris and its consulate-general in Algiers.

Officials said French Premier Pierre Pflimlin faces an almost impossible task in trying simultaneously to strengthen the position of his government, find a solution for the Algerian problem and reform the French constitution.

The greatest immediate danger seen here is not in Paris but in North Africa. Washington fears that Tunisia and Morocco may become involved because of the presence of large French military forces in those countries which only recently achieved independence from France.

Clashes were reported between French and Tunisian forces at Gafsa in south central Tunisia and Remada, farther to the south near the Libyan border.

Tunisia already has demanded removal of French troops from her soil. Moroccan Ambassador El Mehdi ben Aboud said his government also has demanded immediate evacuation of all French troops in his country.

The 33,000 French troops in Tunisia have been technically restricted to their bases by order of the Tunisian government since last February and are unquestionably restive. The assumption here is that they may be strongly tempted to take affairs into their own hands as did the military command in neighboring Algeria.

President Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia has a force variously estimated at only 4,000 to 5,000 men. In Morocco, officials said, there are more than 20,000 French troops. The Moroccan government under King Mohammed V has an army estimated at 25,000 men but much of it is said to be inadequately armed.

CONWAY, Ark. (AP)—Damage in recent Arkansas floods was estimated at two million dollars yesterday by Owen Payne Jr., state Civil Defense director.

Payne said he was sure damage was worse this year than in 1937 when the state received one and one-half million dollars in federal disaster aid.

Biblical Idea of Respiration Being Revived

NEW YORK (AP)—A biblical technique for artificial respiration, largely discarded in favor of other methods, now is being advocated once more as the best, after all.

Under the age-old means of resuscitation, the rescuer simply breathes mouth to mouth directly into the lungs of an unconscious victim.

"It's as simple as blowing up a balloon," says Dr. Vincent J. Collins, president of the New York State Society of Anesthesiologists.

At Collins' urging, the New York State Medical Society has officially adopted the method as most effective. He hopes the American Medical Assn. will follow suit at a San Francisco meeting next month.

Countless lives can be saved if people will acquaint themselves with the technique, Collins said.

He considers it three to four times as effective as other systems taught in years past, such as the back-pressure-arm lift and Schafer plans.

It is so simple that a 5-year-old child can successfully revive an unconscious man weighing 250 pounds or more, Collins said.

Others describe it as "unequivocally superior" to manual techniques in all age groups, and the only one which assures that an adequate volume of air will enter the victim's lungs.

The Bible relates this account of its use in 11 Kings, 4:32-34: "And when Elisha was come into the house, behold, the child was dead, and laid upon his bed. 'He went in, therefore, and shut the door upon them: twain, and prayed unto the Lord: 'And he went up, and lay upon the child, and put his mouth upon his mouth, and he stretched himself upon the child, and the flesh of the child waxed warm. 'Then he returned, and walked in the house to and fro; and went upon him, and the child sneezed several times, and the child opened his eyes.'"

"And he went up, and lay upon the child, and put his mouth upon his mouth, and he stretched himself upon the child, and the flesh of the child waxed warm. 'Then he returned, and walked in the house to and fro; and went upon him, and the child sneezed several times, and the child opened his eyes.'"

"And he went up, and lay upon the child, and put his mouth upon his mouth, and he stretched himself upon the child, and the flesh of the child waxed warm. 'Then he returned, and walked in the house to and fro; and went upon him, and the child sneezed several times, and the child opened his eyes.'"

Williams Comes Through With Grand Slam Homer

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ten Williams hit a grand slam home run in the way he knows best—with a swish of his bat.

On Wednesday, after Williams had gone 0 for 3 the question was raised whether the 30-year-old Boston Red Sox slugger finally was showing his age. His batting average had dwindled to .225.

Thursday night he gave them the answer. Boston was trailing Kansas City 3-1 in the fourth inning. Jackie Jensen doubled and scored on Jimmy Piersall's single.

A walk and Pete Rummel's errand single loaded the bases. Williams quickly unloaded them with a home run, his fifth of the season and 46th of his career. The Red Sox went on to win, 6-5.

The Grand-slammer was the 16th of Williams' career and broke a tie with Jimmy Foss for third place. Lou Gehrig holds the major league record with 23. Babe Ruth is second with 17.

Kansas City's defeat forced a three-way tie with Cleveland and Baltimore for second place. The Indians defeated New York 3-1 to reach the 500 mark along with the Athletics and the Orioles. The Chicago White Sox climbed out of the cellar with a 5-1 triumph over Baltimore.

New York dumped Detroit into the basement, edging out the Tigers 6-4 for its ninth straight. The Tigers have lost eight in a row.

Mary Thorneberry's second big league home run won for the Yankees, breaking a 4-4 tie in the ninth. He also had a double and drove in three runs.

Elgin's eighth inning doubles by Bobby Ayala and Mickey Vernon and a single by Preston Ward produced two Cleveland runs and broke a 1-1 tie with the Senators. Jim (Mudcat) Grant pitched a six hitter to win his fourth against two defeats. Truman (Tex) Cleveland was the loser.

Jim Wilson snapped a four-game Chicago losing streak, pitching a nine-hitter over Baltimore. The White Sox collected 9 of their 10 hits off loser Arnie Portocarrero.

Lopata Muffs Again, Loses Game for Phils

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Twice in a little over a week Philadelphia catcher Stan Lopata, has muffed a routine pop foul. Each time the opposition took advantage of the break to score the winning runs.

Chicago had two on and two out in the second inning Thursday night when Ernie Banks popped up. Lopata camped nonchalantly under it — and dropped it. Given a second chance, Banks walloped a three-run homer that supplied the Cubs' winning 7-4 margin.

On May 5 in Los Angeles, Philadelphia and the Dodgers were locked in a 5-5 deadlock in the 14th inning. Los Angeles had two out. Charlie Neal popped a pitch up behind home plate. Lopata dropped it.

Neal then walked and scored the winning run on a single by Carl Farris.

SAME STORY...

NEW HEADLINE!

Year after year, as the report comes in, the same story is filed for the record. Advertisers continue to exhibit their confidence in the power of newspaper advertising by placing the bulk of advertising dollars in newspapers.

According to the McCann-Erickson, Inc. Printers' Ink Preliminary Estimates of Advertising Expenditures for 1957, advertisers spent a record $10,422,000,000 in all forms of media. Of this total, a new high of $3,325,000,000 was invested in daily newspapers—more than in radio, TV, magazines and outdoor combined.

Advertisers turn to the daily newspaper because it gives the best buy for the money. Take a hard look at your advertising budget. Is the major share going into deeper-penetrating, more resultful newspaper advertising? If so, you're on your way to more sales per advertising dollar.

All business is local... and so are all newspapers.
